

bondiworldexpo

at Waverley Library Galleries from 2nd October

The concept of Bondiworldexpo started in 2012, where Andre Braun had the opportunity to exhibit at the Bondi Pavilion Gallery. The work depicted in "bondiworldexpo 2012" reflected his then state of mind and has been a way of expressing emotions through the medium of photography.

"Bondiworldexpo revisited" is focussing on the rediscovery of Bondi Beach, from a unique perspective, creating an intriguing and unique photographic environment and landscape.

Ground Floor - Foyer Two Worlds – One beach

Two opposite worlds in one same location, Bondi Beach. It is a story of two main residents of this amazing beach, the gulls and human creatures sharing the same space. This concept is about the analogy of two worlds apart, but with one goal in common, trying to defy gravity. An attempt to look at this beautiful beach in an unusual way, a dance of two different world in one magic location. Capturing the moment, as if gravity did not exist!

First Floor - Atrium

Scale Photography at Bondi Beach: This concept is all about exploration, imagination, discovery and beauty of one location, Bondi Beach, at a different scale. Looking at reality from a unique perspective. Human models have been physically reduced in scale and then strategically positioned in the landscape to create ground breaking depiction of the "Bondi Beach world".

Born in Switzerland in 1968, Andre Braun has over 20 years experience in architecture. His particular passion is the integration of architecture, graphic art, 3-D visualisations and multi-media presentations.

In 1995, after working in several cities including Hong Kong, Berlin and Zurich, Andre moved to Sydney where he continued to polish his skills as a design architect for several medium to large local and international architectural design studios.

In parallel to bondiworldexpo, he is presently working on the commercial buildings of the inner city development of Bangaroo South, Sydney.

The concept of bondiworldexpo started in November 2012, where Braun had the opportunity to exhibit at the Bondi Pavilion Gallery. The work depicted in 'bondworldexpo 1' reflected his then state of mind and has been a way of expressing emotions through the medium of photography.
